

AHA Equity Conference: Registration opening soon!

View this email as a webpage

2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference: Registration opens in February

ACHI and AHA's Institute for Diversity and Health Equity are once again joining forces for the annual Accelerating Health Equity Conference. The conference, May 16–18 in Minneapolis this year, helps advance the organizations' shared mission of closing health equity gaps by building strategic hospital-community partnerships and developing and sustaining diversity and inclusion across the field. Front-line leaders from hospitals, health systems, public health and community-based organizations are encouraged to be part of the conversation and collaboration to develop more equitable solutions to improve health outcomes.

Registration opens in early February. See our exciting lineup of plenary speakers below, view conference fees and learn more about the conference. We hope to see you in May!

Opening Keynote Speaker

Isabel Wilkerson will give the opening keynote address at AHA's 2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference. Wilkerson's debut book, The Warmth of Other Suns, follows the journey of three African Americans fleeing the repressive Jim Crow south, as they join six million more in what would come to be known as America's Great Migration.

Day Two Plenary Speaker

Ivor Horn, M.D., MPH, will give a session speech on day two at AHA's 2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference. Dr. Horn is the director of health equity and social determinants of health at Google where she leads a cross-functional team that provides health equity leadership to ensure that health-related products, research and other initiatives are diverse, fair, accessible and inclusive.

2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference:
Registration opens in February

ACHI and AHA's Institute for Diversity and Health Equity are once again joining forces for the annual Accelerating Health Equity Conference. The conference, May 16–18 in Minneapolis this year, helps advance the organizations' shared mission of closing health equity gaps by building strategic hospital-community partnerships and developing and sustaining diversity and inclusion across the field. Front-line leaders from hospitals, health systems, public health and community-based organizations are encouraged to be part of the conversation and collaboration to develop more equitable solutions to improve health outcomes.

Registration opens in early February. See our exciting lineup of plenary speakers below, view conference fees and learn more about the conference. We hope to see you in May!

Opening Keynote Speaker

Isabel Wilkerson will give the opening keynote address at AHA's 2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference. Wilkerson's debut book, The Warmth of Other Suns, follows the journey of three African Americans fleeing the repressive Jim Crow south, as they join six million more in what would come to be known as America's Great Migration.

Day Two Plenary Speaker

Ivor Horn, M.D., MPH, will give a session speech on day two at AHA's 2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference. Dr. Horn is the director of health equity and social determinants of health at Google where she leads a cross-functional team that provides health equity leadership to ensure that health-related products, research and other initiatives are diverse, fair, accessible and inclusive.

Closing Keynote Speaker

Brian D. Smedley, PhD, will give the closing keynote speech at AHA's 2023 Accelerating Health Equity Conference. Dr. Smedley is among the inaugural class of Equity Scholars at the Urban Institute, where he will conduct research and policy analysis to address structural and institutional forms of racism that impact the health and well-being of people of color.