

View this email in your browser

Save the Date – October 8, 2016

2016 John Marshall Everglades Symposium

Saturday, October 8, 2016

8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Admission $30, includes luncheon

Luncheon keynote speaker Award-winning author and journalist

Michael Grunwald

Admission tickets and sponsorship opportunities are available

Michael Grunwald is a best-selling author and a senior writer for POLITICO Magazine. Previously, he was New York bureau chief and national staff reporter for The Washington Post and senior national correspondent for Time Magazine. His book The Swamp: The Everglades, Florida, and the Politics of Paradise, was praised as “brilliant” (The Washington Post), “magnificent” (The Palm Beach Post), and “terrific” (The New York Times). It was hailed by author Carl Hiaasen as “the best thing I’ve ever read about the Everglades.”

The Symposium, designed for the public, will also feature well-known environmentalists and community leaders who will lead panel discussions and breakout sessions throughout the morning and afternoon.

Don't miss this exceptional opportunity to understand the complex puzzle of the Florida Everglades, from the Kissimmee River Basin to the Florida Keys and how to take action.

Sponsorship levels range from $2,500 to $100. Please call Nancy Marshall at (561) 233-9004 or email administration@oureverglades.org today.

Copyright © 2015 Arthur R. Marshall Jr. Foundation and Florida Environmental Institute, All rights reserved.

PO Box 213188, West Palm Beach, FL 33421

www.artmarshall.org

(561) 233-9004